7. The Registrar may make searches about you in the Electoral Register and at other agencies for the purposes of verifying your identity and determining your suitability for admission to the Approved List. The agencies will record details of the search type (identification) whether or not your application proceeds.
8. To prevent or detect fraud, the Registrar may undertake searches with fraud prevention agencies and in other official records. The Registrar may also pass information to other organisations involved in crime prevention.
